

vita-life® R-System

Contraindications

A distinction is made between absolute contraindications (where the R-System must not be used under any circumstances) and relative contraindications; in the case of the latter the R-System may be used only under strict medical supervision, both for treatment of the condition itself and for general preventive health care.

ABSOLUTE contraindications are

- Pregnancy
- Severe cardiac arrhythmias and heart failure
(only in cases of grades III and IV)
- Cardiac pacemaker or other electronic implants
Unexplained pain symptoms until the cause has been diagnosed
- Epilepsy
- Severe bleeding with blood loss of more than one litre

RELATIVE contraindications - Use only under medical supervision

- Typ. 1 (juvenile) diabetes
- Acute and severe fungal and bacterial infections
- Acute overactive thyroid (hyperthyroidism)
- Acute phases of autoimmune diseases
- Very severe hypotension (low blood pressure) (e.g. systolic b.p.< 95 mmHg)
- Severe bradycardia (e.g. pulse of < 50 bpm)
- Severe diarrhoea
- High-dose, chronic immunosuppressive medication
- Malignant tumours
- Thromboses
- Psychoses
- Extreme hypersensitivity to electricity

Version: 04/2018